RESPONSE TO COVID-19

Our priorities:
- Health and safety of our employees
- Maintaining flawless production

A wide set of precautionary measures implemented to ensure safe working conditions

5,000 people working remotely

> 50,000 people
Regular distribution of personal protection equipment (PPE)
Regular disinfection
Strict safety protocols adjusted to local requirements and beyond

>2,000 people staying at home (60+)
Working schedules and transportation routes adjusted
Providing PPE and medical equipment to local hospitals
Local communities support
Steel prices were higher qoq in Q1’20, on average, despite the Covid-19 outbreak in the second half of the quarter:
- Between Jan and mid-Mar, prices were rising in the US, the EU and Russia on healthy demand
- Chinese prices have lost 10% since the start of the virus outbreak in late Jan and stabilized at c. $450/t FOB until the end of March

As of today, prices in certain regions are down more than 20% vs Q1’20 average

Decline in steel prices outpaced drop in raw material costs with spreads trending down ever since March

Source: Bloomberg, excl. VAT. Quoted prices can be different from NLMK’s realized prices

Source: Metal Expert, Bloomberg
Raw materials basket is calculated using production ratios for one tonne of steel: iron ore price x 1.6 + coking coal price x 0.6
Russian assets
- NLMK Lipetsk site operates at 100% utilization
- Flat products volumes are currently being booked for June
- Long products - shortage of scrap and construction restrictions in Moscow weigh on the segment’s utilization
- Export share has increased in an anticipation of slowdown on the Russian market

Europe Plate holding up well despite overall market slowdown

Europe Strip and US Flat adjusted output in line with widely anticipated drop in demand in Q2

CAPACITY UTILIZATION, %

- Russian Flat: April 2019 - 100%, April 2020 - 100%
- Russian Long: April 2019 - 97%, April 2020 - 65%
- Europe Plate: April 2019 - 80%, April 2020 - 75%
- Europe Strip: April 2019 - 84%, April 2020 - 40%
- US Flat: April 2019 - 84%, April 2020 - 60%

*Part of Europe Plate (Clabecq and Verona mills) as well as Europe Strip are part of NBH

EXPORT SHARE IN NLMK’S RUSSIAN ASSETS SALES, %

- Feb-20: Export - 48%, Russia - 52%
- Mar-20: Export - 46%, Russia - 54%
- Apr-20: Export - 39%, Russia - 61%
- May-20: Export - 28%, Russia - 72%
Construction demand varies from region to region

- Moscow and the Moscow region suspended activities for 2.5 weeks in April causing almost twofold drop in demand in April
- Other regions didn’t impose such strict measures
- Overall, we expect double-digit consumption decline in May and June for the whole sector

Automotive, white goods as well as the oil and gas segments also remain weak

Machinery sector looks relatively stronger

Industry analysts’ estimates: % change versus normalized levels observed during the second quarters
Capex plan c. 20% lower than originally guided: projects postponed + FX devaluation

Positive free cash flow remains a priority

BoD recommendation for Q4’19 dividends reduced to $250 m

BoD recommendation for Q1’20 dividends amounts to $250 m

Dividend policy remains intact – targeting 100% of 2020 FCF

Liquidity was increased to preserve financial flexibility in light of market uncertainties

Working capital lines maturing in 2020 to be rolled over or refinanced:
- 40% of WC lines are being rolled over to 2021 and 2022
- 40% of WC lines to be refinanced and extended until 2024 and 2025

* As at March 31, 2020
MARKETS

The EU and the US: steel demand is expected to show double-digit decline qoq with economic activity starting to revive towards the end of Q2’20. Reduced output would provide some support to supply & demand balance and prices

China: manufacturing activity has largely resumed, government injections into economy and infrastructure should stimulate steel demand in the short-term

Russia: the outbreak and containment measures have started to affect domestic economy and businesses almost a month later than in the EU and the US suggesting the back-to-normal conditions to start resurfacing in late June

RESULTS OUTLOOK

Steel output at NLMK Lipetsk to be lower qoq due to the start of the second stage of overhauls at the site’s BF and BOF operations
